

Grady White Canyon 456

Grady White has managed to raise the bar in the outboard fishing boat industry with their new flagship offering, the Canyon 456. Striking a balance between luxury sportfisherman and outboard performance center console without leaving one side lacking is not easy but the Canyon 456 does it handily. Comfort features associated with much larger inboard vessels are at every turn, from the plush forward lounging area to the remarkably finished cabin below. The business end, from the air-conditioned helm deck to the giant open cockpit with theater style seating (also air conditioned), features every practical working option any serious fishing team could ask for. Full specs and standard features can be found at www.gradywhite.com.
