

GREAT WHITE

The Grady-White Canyon 456 is the North Carolina builder's new flagship.

By Kevin Koenig

GRADY-WHITE has officially entered the monster-center-console game with its 45-foot-long, 14-foot-wide Canyon 456. With 50 rod holders, four 350 hp Yamaha four-stroke outboards and a top speed of about 47 knots, this boat was born to fish. And with a king-size berth belowdecks, as well as a galley with a refrigerator, cook-top and six-bottle wine chiller, a comfortable night on the hook after a day of fighting fish awaits.

● Whom It's For: Mega-yacht owners with a heavy interest in wetting a line can use the 456 for fair-weather fishing, as a major tender for a charter yacht or as a tournament vessel, depending on her owner's druthers. ● Picture This: You and all eight guests on board your 150-footer are hankering for some sashimi, and the bite is on. The whole party loads onto the Canyon 456 and away you go — with room to spare. ♡

Take the next step: gradywhite.com

LOA
45'0"
TOP SPEED
47 KNOTS

The Grady-White Canyon 456 has twin 35-gallon livewells and a 115-gallon fish box with integrated freezer coils.

COURTESY GRADY-WHITE