

8 GRADY-WHITE FREEDOM 285

This dual console rides on a familiar hull, but the rest of the boat has been reimagined and refreshed. The 28-footer, with a 9-foot, 6-inch beam, features an upgraded hardtop with expanded windshield. The redesigned helm station includes larger flush-mounted electronics and a compass at the top of the console. Passengers will enjoy relaxing in the forward bow lounge, which has twin benches with chaise seatbacks and a drop-in table. Aft, two benches are behind each console, and there's another lounge at the transom. The Freedom 285 also has a head compartment and swim platform. The boat is ready to fish, with a livewell, fish boxes, rod stowage and tackle trays. Grady-White will also exhibit its new 326 Canyon center console at the fall shows.
